Dedication

The Maintenance Department

The striking beauty of our campus is maintained through the hard work and dedication of each member of our N.C. School for the Deaf Maintenance Department. Whether it be a routine request or a special event, the Maintenance Department personnel respond with smiles and completion of each task in a diligent and efficient manner. College Day, High Q, and the Junior/Senior Prom, to name a few, are instances in which the Maintenance Department plays an important role in their success.

An outstanding characteristic of the people in the Maintenance Department at N. C. School for the Deaf is their congeniality toward students and fellow employees. Whether painting, fixing a doorknob, or remodeling an area, they always greet everyone in a friendly manner. Their sense of humor makes our day a little brighter.

We, the Senior Class, wish to show our appreciation to the hard working members of our Maintenance Department — present and past — by dedicating the 1988 Clock Tower to them. Through this dedication we wish to convey the important role the Maintenance Department plays in helping us obtain our education.

Superintendent

Dear Members of the NCSD Class of 1988:

It won't be long before your baccalaureate and commencement exercises. Let's think together now — and then — about the baccalaureate and commencement participants, who they are and what they represent.

Among those participants are members of your own class, ministers to the deaf, board members, a parent and prominent citizens of our community and state.

NCSD has always believed that youngsters learn by doing and it observes the practice of student involvement. These efforts are not always perfect but even the imperfections provide learning experiences and we can't expect students to be effective participants after graduation when we haven't given them the opportunity to participate before graduation.

The involvement of these particular ministers to the deaf is important because of your personal knowledge of and your friendship with them. On another level, their presence and their skills illustrate a growing number of churches who are making serious efforts to include hearing impaired people in their fellowships. Good things are happening in this regard.

For ninety-plus years, NCSD has had the good fortune of excellent board members. Being selected as a board member comes to people who have identified themselves through hard work and worthy achievements. Every organization needs influential people such as these. Perhaps without your even knowing it, many of the things you have enjoyed at NCSD are directly traceable to one or more NCSD Board Members, current or past. Looking at it in another way, serving as a board member is an admirable objective. Perhaps some of you will want to establish that as a goal.

Lucky, lucky, lucky are those of you whose parents have nurtured, supported, encouraged and loved. Perhaps as you listen to an NCSD parent give the commencement address, you'll have the chance to take a moment to reflect on all your parents have done for you. Perhaps you will also remember that your school, NCSD, has sought always to work with parents and keep them involved in your lives and progress.

Several other prominent citizens of our community and state will participate in baccalaureate and commencement. Obviously, you are thankful to these particular people for the excitement they individually and collectively will bring to the graduation activities. However, they need to be seen as more. They need to be seen as representatives of hundreds of thousands of people in this community, this state and this country who have a genuine interest in you and stand ready to help you as you show yourselves worthy of such interest and help.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Rance Henderson

In Memory

Miss Edrie Elgiva Shepard
May 6, 1930 — March 13, 1988

A Life of Giving

Elgiva Shepard gave over forty years of her life in service to the North Carolina School for the Deaf and to all with whom she had contact. She will long be remembered for her service to God and to others and for her untiring giving without regard for her own welfare. Miss Shepard had time for her students, her staff, parents of her students, deaf adults, friends, and family even though the giving of time resulted in her work day being extended greatly. She had a tremendous capacity to love and to give of herself — the greatest gifts of all.

— She will be missed by all.
